

Dental supply distributors value the Briteguard range because it meets demonstrated customer needs.

Made by technicians for technicians

- Mouthguard R&D leaders since 1960
- Designed by dental prosthetists
- Real world experience of what works in dental practice

Easier to work with

- Superior moulding and composition properties
- Easier to trim and finish

Greater safety protection

- Lighter and stronger than traditional EVA
- Greater tensile strength and increased toughness
- Greater energy absorption

Better patient experience

- Up to 250,000 colour combinations for client enjoyment
- Better oral fit and feel
- Stronger, lighter, more comfortable

More economical

- Our philosophy is simple: "We make mouthguards which give the greatest degree of protection and comfort in the most affordable way"
 - Briteguard Mouthguard Material provides an attractive market for dental supply distributors and for their client dentists and dental laboratories.